

ELLINE | STAINED GLASS

Following the recent release of her soulfully infused pop single "Smoke and Mirrors," singer songwriter Elline released the song's music video, directed by LA-based photographer Yves Huy Truong on Youtube. Now available on all digital platforms, "Stained Glass" was written and recorded in Los Angeles, mixed by Felipe Mejia Saldarriaga and mastered by Stuart Hawkes with Metropolis Mastering in London.

Elline wrote the material and assisted with song arrangements while working alongside music producers Felipe Mejia Saldarriaga, Mateo Lewis and SUR, whom helped carve out the sound and feel of "Stained Glass." The 4-track EP is a genuine representation of her artistic creativity and has an empowering, playful, reflective, and honest nature.

The Stained Glass EP started as an outlet of self-discovery and self love. "Stained glass is a powerful metaphor for how we see life and for how life reveals itself to us", says Elline. She skillfully crafted each song on the EP as if it were a work of art. Her fans will be able to feel the passion and devotion through her compelling vocals and heartfelt lyrics.
